Without continual growth and progress, such words as improvement, achievement and success have no meaning.

- Benjamin Franklin

The road that never ends, the end that never begins – Seshadripuram Educational Trust has laid a new milestone at Tumakuru with Seshadripuram School, Seshadripuram Pre-University College and Seshadripuram Degree College all inaugurated and functional from this academic year. In this issue, we take you through a campus tour of Seshadripuram School, Tumakuru. So far it has been an eventful year; the academic year began with Orientation 2017-18 for the new students of S.E.T. which was conducted in all the institutions. Meritorious students received cash awards and were also briefed about the rules and regulations of the colleges. The 88th anniversary of Dandi March also known as Salt march, which was a 24-day march began on 12 March 1930, was commemorated in association with the University of Mysore at the Mysuru campus. The 71st Independence Day celebrations reminded us of the nation's rich history and heritage, the sacrifices of our great leaders which inspires us in our duties as citizens of the country. With immense pride and joy, S.E.T. hosted a celebratory High Tea for P.U. colleges for securing university ranks as well as for our degree colleges upon being re-accredited with the highest grade 'A' by NAAC. Our students are also reaching new heights in the field of sports. S.E.T. has always tried to deliver the best whether it be curricular, sports, cultural, literary or any other co-curricular and extra-curricular activities and every issue of Vani proudly bears a testimony to it.

Seshadripuram School, Tumakuru

CAMPUS TOUR

One beautiful Bengaluru morning the editors of Vani set out on a tour to explore the brand new additions under the S.E.T. banner-the Seshadripuram School, P.U. and Degree colleges at Tumakuru. Past the usual city traffic, the ride was a breeze quite literally; the wind blew in our faces, the weather was just the right mix of sunny and cool and the view outside the window was a glad sight to the sore, city dwellers' eyes. We hungrily took in the innumerable trees, shrubs and hillocks that dotted either side of the highway even as we chatted away with the friendly Mr. Yoganand who helmed the wheel. Less than a couple of hours and a handful of toll booths later, our vehicle swerved off the Ring road and soon we were at Seshadripuram School, Tumakuru.

Coming from a college right in the middle of a big, bustling city I found the environs of, 'Chaitanya Bharathi' as the campus is called very refreshing. Sure, the former has its perks but the latter has loads to boast about too.

Located slightly away from the main Tumakuru city, the campus was just about the right distance away from the, 'madding crowd'. The plush new building seemed to perch happily amidst the wide open spaces around. Here, in the uncluttered suburb, the air was clean and fresh and ample sunlight poured through the big windows of the building. Just what the little ones needed I thought.

There was a fair smattering of houses and shops and the staff informed me that most of them had come up as the construction of the campus had begun. Makes sense indeed to have a home near a good school I chuckled. As I gazed at the spanking new, bright yellow school bus I was told that it plied through the city, picking up students from all over and next year another would be added.

We stepped into the campus and were warmly received by the principal - Ms. H.N. Nanda Raj. There in the vast quadrangle, we were welcomed by the sight and sounds of little toddlers at their play time. The school caters to children of all ages from play group, Montessori to Standard 9, the principal informed. Apart from the state syllabus curriculum, children were also engaged in various extra-curricular activities for their all-round development. The school, in collaboration with Ramakrishna Math taught children-Bhagavad Gita, Yakshagana as well as told them stories from the Puranas. Classical dance and music too was taught to the children, as well as Karate. A science experiments workshop too had been conducted for the youngsters. Very impressive for a school that had only begun three months earlier.

As we strolled about the campus, we passed walls upon walls bedecked with colourful hand-made charts displaying animals, birds, numbers, alphabets and do's and don'ts for the little learners. The classrooms too were furnished with multi-coloured chairs and tables and numerous pictures and charts hung all across the rooms. Toys, building blocks and various learning aids beckoned to be played with! It was indeed a vibrant place to be and learn! A place where surely learning was made fun!

Eager students were seen huddled around desks, engrossed in activities even as teachers and teaching assistants moved from bench to bench helping and surveying the progress. Others were seen listening attentively as teachers taught them.

We stopped for a cup of tea in the spacious principal's chamber even as madam shared the various joys and challenges of building a school from scratch. It was clear that great efforts were being made to establish a wholesome teaching learning experience. The latest learning tools and books were being sourced from Bangalore. The school app intimated parents regarding any important notifications and also hosted a daily quiz which students could answer and win prizes.

Adjacent to the principal's chamber, staff could be seen typing away at their computers in the administrative office. Rows of chairs stood neatly side-by-side in the visitor's lounge in front of it.

Comfortable, well-equipped faculty lounges and staff rooms catered to the needs of teachers on each floor.

We went around the campus, past the security block, parking area and the sand pit-a favourite spot of the young ones the teachers pointed. Daily morning assemblies are held in the spacious compound where students began their day with gratitude, prayers and news reading which informed them regarding the latest happenings in the world. Morning assemblies would shift to the vast ground that stretched right in front of the school as numbers increased.

Next, we toured the huge basement, a cool, sheltered place that could easily house about a 1000 people; a perfect location for events such as-School day. Last but not the least, we paid a visit to the terrace, we stood gazing at the breath taking view from the top, as our mind reminisced all that we had seen that day.

Without a doubt, it was school built with great thought and care, by experienced hands; a ramp here, a basin within the reach of tiny tots, a well placed counter in a corner....God is in the details and the children in good hands!
